WINLPG is delighted to announce that the winner of Woman of the Year 2022 is Elifcan Yazgan, Supply Chain Director at Aygaz in Turkey.

The first runner up is Danelle Dilibero, SVP People & Culture at Anova in the USA.

Ms Yazgan commented:

'I was honoured and flattered to be awarded as The Woman of the Year by World LPG Association. I would like to thank WLPGA for their careful consideration and their appreciation of what I believe has been my input to the LPG industry.

'I'm grateful for this award as it has shown me once again that I did the right thing by taking a step out of my comfort zone. First it scares you, then it hurts you but it makes all the difference.

I sincerely hope my story would give strength and motivation to other women in energy markets. I want to say to all women who try their best to become the best version of themselves, let us not hold back ladies, for future is female.'
